

The “Promises” of borgo santo pietro

Our philosophy and commitment to authentic Italian living extends to the kitchen. Let your five senses be tantalized by the exquisite yet simple food experience. The freshness of the ingredients tells their own story and are the primal mover of our seasonal dishes. All we add is our care and creative passion for food. We carefully monitor the journey of all our ingredients whereby the meat is sourced locally on free-range farms and the fish that we serve arrives directly from the morning’s catch. The large organic garden of over 200 species of vegetables, 50 aromatic herbs and 40 flowers drives the inspiration of our dishes. Our Chef works closely with our gardeners to produce unique and delicious seasonal creations, almost as attractive to the eye as they are to the palate. He takes the concept of organic one step beyond. Such is our love of homegrown and homemade produce, all the bread, jams and yoghurts we serve at breakfast and alongside main dishes for lunch and dinner, are freshly made in our kitchen every single day. He is author of his simple but personal kitchen who takes inspiration from the close proximity of its ingredients. When sourcing the best products possible, he looks first to the local suppliers and farmers of our immediate vicinity, which further contributes to the authenticity of our Tuscan story.
