

"When building Satori, we wanted to transcend the boundaries of traditional sailing. That's why we used high-quality, sustainably sourced teak and mahogany - these woods are incredibly robust and give Satori a classic feel. But we didn't just stop at the materials. Every single detail, from the elegant seating to the lighting inspired by 1920s boats, was carefully thought out. Satori isn't just another yacht. It's designed to give you an unmatched experience on the water, connecting you with the elements and the amazing open ocean in a way you've never felt before. That's what makes Satori so precious - it combines true luxury with a deep respect for nature and sailing heritage.."

CONCEPT

Satori merges the comfort of a five-star boutique hotel with a traditional hand-built wooden schooner to create the ultimate classic sailing experience.

Inspired by the understated elegance of the 1920s and '30s era, Satori features exquisite wood detailing and expansive window views. It offers state-of-the-art living, dining, and leisure facilities seamlessly designed to evoke the feeling of being at home, with amplified space and privacy on board. Additionally, various areas are provided for guests to retreat to in intimate seclusion.

Satori was born of the passion and experience of owners Claus and Jeanette Thottrup, the dynamic duo behind the Borgo Santo Pietro Group of lifestyle companies, inspired by their love of sailing and ongoing quest to create experiences for guests that go beyond the bounds of the known to unite luxury and nature in a way that has never been done before.

Top-tier service is therefore ingrained into Satori's DNA, where guests enjoy Michelin-starred dining prepared by a personal chef from our restaurant Borgo Santo Pietro Saporium, onboard spa facilities, a range of the latest innovative water toys, and an extensive program of concierge activities managed by five-star boutique hotel and estate Borgo Santo Pietro. Each of the eight crew members have been hand-picked for their expertise, whether in navigation and seamanship, gourmet dining or stellar service, while Satori's two 600-horsepower engines offer guests the choice of both motoring and taking long-haul voyages as well as enjoying the timeless feeling of classic sailing.

SATORI

DESIGN

Finished in glossy mahogany and walnut wood, with teak floors, wood paneling, and large windows throughout, Satori embodies the epitome of slow living and the exquisite detail of classic, bygone-era sailing.

Distinct atmospheres on deck:

Claus and Jeanette Thottrup took their signature holistic approach to creating distinct atmospheres on board Satori, situating the open-view kitchen, bar, and dining area mid-deck for greater privacy. Framed by large windows offering sweeping views of the sea, the kitchen has been designed to inspire creativity for the chef within, as well as invite the guest to actively observe the chef preparing gourmet dishes.

A coffee lounge-style area at the end of the deck features a second bar, comfy lounge seating, and a large covered daybed, creating a leisurely social ambiance where guests can sip freshly brewed espresso coffee or enjoy a glass of wine. Satori's front deck is dedicated to cinema and solitude, boasting a state-of-the-art, fold-away cinema screen and a large sunbed for guests to bask in the warmth of the sun and the gentle rise and fall of the waves. The top deck offers even more options for private sunbathing, with a row of sunbeds commanding spectacular views over the water, while old-fashioned deck chairs situated mid-deck add to the quintessential feeling of sailing upon the seas.

LIFE ONBOARD

“It’s all about living on the water and ‘cocooning’ with who you have with you.”

– Co-owner and co-designer
Jeanette Thottrup

Wellness lies at the core of Satori’s philosophy. From its carefully designed spaces that merge the best of nature and luxury, fostering good company and the sharing of solitude, to feasting on the catch of the day, prepared with passion and fresh ingredients, a feeling of well-being permeates the guest experience on board.

Satori is not just about the design but how it is lived. The yacht’s bespoke design enables guests to relax in intimate seclusion, with various decks offering separate spaces to enjoy shared company or retreat to for a moment of privacy. To maximise the feeling of freedom and privacy on board, the captain’s wheelhouse and crew living and working areas are completely separate from the main guest areas.

Connection with nature permeates the experience on board, from the perennially visible views of the sea in the guest rooms, open-view kitchen, and indoor living area, to the outdoor cinema that unfurls beneath the stars to provide high-tech downtime while still maintaining a connection with the natural surroundings.

Satori also features a private wellness cabin fitted with a steam bath that can be converted into an extra guest room. Before sailing, guests can choose how they would like to use the space and arrange to have a personal therapist on board. A sanctuary for the senses, Satori’s spa facilities enable guests to indulge in a revitalising treatment or soothing massage, topped off with a relaxing and healthy steam therapy at the end of a long salt- and sun-filled day.

"It is, to be honest, a marvel: a boat that wows as much from the water as close up, with its sleek, midnight-blue outer hull, twin masts over 100 feet, and spacious deck cabins."

– DEPARTURE MAGAZINE
LEE MARCHALL

"The 136-foot sailing yacht Satori is a contemporary example of bygone grace."

– ROBB REPORT
VIJU MATHEW

"The Satori is the vessel for people who appreciate elegant design as much as being on the water."

– DEPARTURE MAGAZINE
FRANZISKA SENG

"The ethos behind her build clearly was to reproduce "a boutique hotel and gourmet dining concept" at sea and onboard the Thottrups' attention to detail is evident throughout, from her freestanding walnut bath in the master cabin to a cellar hidden underneath the stairs."

DINING

“With a five-star hotel and two Michelin-starred restaurants, dining is part of our DNA and a great passion of ours on Satori.”

– Co-owner and co-designer
Claus Thottrup

Dining takes centre-stage on Satori, with a professional open-view kitchen, expansive mahogany bar and dining area situated mid-deck, where guests are able to watch their personal chef at work and dine in privacy while in harbour.

Managed by chefs from our Michelin-starred restaurants Saporium Firenze and Saporium Chiusdino in Italy, our farm-to-plate philosophy extends aboard to Satori. We often provide our guests with food directly farmed and produced on our estate, including wine, cheese, vegetables, and beyond, ensuring a culinary experience deeply rooted in the flavours of our land. When traveling, we ensure the menu is tailored to local areas, inspired by traditional dishes, cultural ingredients, and fresh produce that our staff collects from markets en route. This produce ranges from light snacks to gourmet degustations, highlighting the catch of the day.

Guests not only have the chance to observe the open-view kitchen theatre as it unfolds but also become active participants. Satori offers guests the opportunity to indulge their gastronomic passion by taking cooking classes with the chef, using freshly caught fish from the sea or ingredients hand-picked from local markets along the coast, drawing their inspiration from the sparkling sea viewed directly from the kitchen bench.

Satori also features an air-conditioned, 250-bottle capacity wine cellar. Guests are invited to store their own wine in the cellar or pair their meals with a selection from Satori’s outstanding collection of boutique wine labels.

THE CREW

The sailing crew lies at the heart of any memorable cruise, which is why Satori's eight crew members have been hand-picked for their expertise, whether in gourmet dining, five-star service, or navigation and seamanship.

Satori's superb dining team showcases the talents of two chefs at all times: our resident gourmet head chef together with one of our executive or sous chefs from our Michelin-starred restaurants Borgo Santo Pietro Saporium. Guests who would like to ensure the services of a Michelin-starred executive chef on board may inquire about availability, as this requires special arrangement and may incur an additional cost.

Each of our stewards has been hand-picked from our five-star boutique hotel and estate Borgo Santo Pietro, joining our highly experienced hostesses to ensure the utmost care and attention to guests. The choice to increase the crew from a standard size of six to eight members with an additional chef and steward was made to ensure that guests receive the same five-star service offered at Borgo Santo Pietro while maintaining a sense of space and privacy on board.

Satori was built in collaboration with the boat's captain and Thottrup family friend Ali Aker, whose sailing experience spans more than 25 years on various types of boats throughout the Mediterranean, including 10 years at the captain's helm. A fluent English speaker, Captain Ali also shares his expertise as a free diver and night diver with guests, offering practical advice and assistance with the various water sports available onboard. Satori's first mate, engineer, and deckhand share a great love of sailing as well as extensive experience and have been involved in the Satori project from various stages.

"The Crew's personality, willingness, and devotion to this boat, as well as that of the service staff, who all enjoy real sailing, make a huge difference to the guests and is what will enable them to enjoy a truly special experience." "
